Voice of One

Albert Fiorino, MA, PhL, MEd, PhD

ISBN 978-0-9733904-4--5--ix-205p

The book includes a series of commentaries on a variety of questions relating to governance in the 21st century, the conduct of public policy, the moral imperative for our times, spiritual development and the text, the role of religion in the world, and to other critical areas in the life of contemporary men and women.

The author adopts a metamode approach to the topics treated in an effort to examine these questions anew, hoping to offer a fresh and innovative perspective, and in the process to invite the reader to engage in his or her very own critical and personal reflections. The title is intended to underscore the need for each one of us to seek out his or her own answers to those fundamental questions that impact directly on our lives, on our society and the world, and on our own personal search for meaning and transcendence.

Cut to the Chase

Reinventing Public Education

Albert Fiorino, MA, PhL, MEd, PhD Contributing Editor

ISBN 978-0-9733904-3-8---xvi-138p

Revised and Expanded Edition

Contributors

Albert Fiorino (Contributing Editor), Rose Andrachuk, Larry P. Arnn, Neil Finkelstein, Milton Friedman, Lawrence W. Reed

The ideas presented in the various contributing articles are used as the basis for the development of a proposal and a series of recommendations for reinventing public education. While the prime focus of reform is Ontario's system of education, the proposed restructuring and funding mechanism can be applied to other educational jurisdictions as well.
